“ Bev Trombley was a patient, caring nurse who was very willing to instruct nursing students and recent graduates. I enjoyed being assigned to her OR suite both as a student and as a brand new graduate. I remember her positive, smiling demeanor. As soon as I saw the news, I knew it was Bev and prayed she be found. That was not to be. My sincere sympathies to her family. Anne Haun Rymski AMC School of Nursing Fall 1968

“ On behalf of the Albany Medical Center School of Nursing I would like to share that we are so sorry at the passing of our friend and colleague. Nursing is giving of one's self to enhance the lives of others. We join today to honor Bev and her lifetime commitment to caring. We acknowledge her nursing practice and know her accomplishments can be measured in the lives she affected through her dedication and caring. On a personal note, I worked with Bev in Risk Management and I will also remember her sense of humor and her dedication to her friends and family. She was such a caring person who will be missed by many.

“ Christopher and Family,

Bev was a great operating room nurse. I loved to sit and chat with her. She had the best sense of humor. She had a smile for everyone . Christopher, she used to tell the most delightful stories about you as she grinned ear to ear. I recall one time she was laughing because the dog stole your steaks for dinner off of the counter as they were thawing.

Celebrating your life Bev.

“ Bev and I were close friends in high school. It does not surprise me that she was the "charge nurse" in the operating room at Albany Medical because she was a very intelligent and capable person.

I am grateful to the Roche Funeral Home for making it possible for this beleaguered woman to be buried with dignity.
