

Michael Nardi

June 29, 2015

Michael Charles Nardi, 85, of Anthony Road, died gracefully and in peace in his home on June 29, 2015 while keeping his sense of humor until the last breath. He was born to Edward and Louise Nardi of South Hadley, MA on November 2, 1929. Michael graduated from Saint Michael's College in Colchester, VT, and attained a Master's Degree from University of Notre Dame, in South Bend, IN. He had a long and successful career as a Sales Representative for the Mead Corporation in South Lee, MA where his engaging wit and personal warmth earned him many friends. He treasured his family, travelled and sailed with Robin, and, enjoyed the company of his great and varied friendships from the four corners of the world. His family will always remember his notorious letter writing to a wide variety of people including (to mention just a few) the sports editors of the Boston Globe, Barak Obama, Ted Kennedy, and some of his favorite dog friends from Alford. His family will remember the "Woodaway" yearly events held at his home to load the basement with firewood and to party afterwards. Most importantly, they will miss his wise advice and loving support. He is survived by Robin, his wife of 39 years, his sister, Pauline, his children: Edward, Michael (Ann), Mary (Bob), Barbara (George), Caron, Tish (Mark), Harry (Llarra), Kerri, and Shannon. He will be greatly missed by his grandchildren Kate (Simon), Daniel (Alina), Elan, Micah, Isaac, Matthew, Sophia, Kaylee, Shawn, Luke, Jacob, Alexander, Mia, John and last but not least his newly arrived great-grandson, Etienne. Following his expressed wishes, he was cremated. There will be a celebration of his life where his family and many friends will gather at a later date. In lieu of flowers, Michael has requested that donations be given to the Adelante Youth Mission to which he has generously supported for 30 years.
