“ Dear van Lingen family and loved ones:

I can't look way back and not see Jeffrey van Lingen. Long ago, when our parents worked together at Lenox School, he was always around, one of the clan of kids woven into the fabric of that special place. Our families shared the world of the rink there, too, where John, Jeannie, Andy, and Jeff were at the very heart of the local hockey community for many years. It seems like they were always there. I shared the blue line with Jeff in high school, where his friendliness and kindness to all were never overshadowed by the mean streak of the game. Whenever I saw him later in life he was always genuinely happy to see me, and in that way he validated my own past. On behalf of my family I offer condolences to all of you, family and loved ones of a special man. I'm sorry for your loss.
