“ I am saddened to hear of the passing of Professor Emeritus Bob Lea. I first met Bob when I was an undergraduate student taking a physics major laboratory course at City College in ~1961. He was knowledgeable, clear, patient, and always willing to answer questions. When I returned to City College as a faculty member in 1970 Bob was the chairman of the department. He, together with Harry Lustig, then dean, had obtained a large NSF departmental development grant that really transformed the department from a teaching department to a research plus teaching department. Professors Boyer, Callender, Kikkawa, Sakita, and Smith also arrived in 1970. Under Bob's skillful management the department really flourished. He was a prime force behind transforming an ROTC marching field into a 13 story science building, now called the Marshak Science Building. He was an excellent teacher, chairman, colleague, and friend. He will truly be missed by all that knew him.

Thank you, Professor Gersten. We love hearing and remembering how effective Bob was in his many years at CCNY. He used to tell me that he couldn't believe he got paid to do his job, because he loved teaching so much. He really was someone special and even after he got sick he would say "I'm a lucky man". We were blessed to know him, may he rest in peace. Thanks again, Vickie

“ I joined the Physics Department in March 1988, and Prof. Lea was the chairman. He had chaired the search committee's interview when I applied for the job and welcomed me to the department. I will always be grateful to him for his wonderful training during that first year. He taught me everything about the administrative responsibilities, including the bureaucratic requirements and how to interact successfully with the students, staff and faculty. He was always kind, thorough, and gave me his genuine respect. I have been in the Physics Department for 32 years now, and credit Prof. Lea for getting me started right in the job.

Hi Vickie,

I came across Bob's ("Mr" Lea's) obituary yesterday and I'm sad about his passing. I admired him. I thought his combination of intellect and leadership was akin to Robert Oppenheimer's. I was grateful to him. He was a mentor to me, and it made a big difference in my career. More than anything, though, I had affection for him. I liked him.

Susan and I both hope that you'll find comfort in memories of the good times.

*Love,
Alberto and Susan Guzman*
