“ Sheila was a breath of fresh air. A force to be reckoned with in the service industry, she also worked for many years as a florist. You could say she was a bit of a guru, oftentimes making the most BEAUTIFUL arrangements.

Sheila appreciated good music, and a taste for the simple things in life. She was a thoughtful friend and a very hard worker.

Sheila lived her life by her own rules, and she was not sorry for that. She was forthcoming, and always had a pair of scissors in her pocket just in case there was a clipping to be had.

Sheila shared many of her past experiences with her friends, and had some really great stories. Her presence was larger than life and she will be greatly missed.
